

LIKE SOCIOLOGY?

WIN $50! We need a catchy name for a new undergraduate sociology journal.
Submit name entries to sociology.journal@bc.edu by April 3rd!
Winner will be notified by email.

This exciting journal for undergraduate students will serve as a forum for sharing everything from academic work to extracurricular interests and even personal talents relating to experiences in sociology. Submitted work that meets the submission guidelines will be published online in Fall 2009.

SUBMIT YOUR WORK by May 1st!

- ❖ Papers and assignments written for courses
- ❖ Informal free writes
- ❖ Journal entries and reflection papers
- ❖ Poetry & photography
- ❖ General observations of everyday life & current events

This journal is yours to shape! Feel free to submit anything that you feel will be of importance to the sociological community. It is a wonderful chance to showcase your work and will look great on any resume! We accept submissions from ALL undergraduates – any major, any year.

Submit your work to sociology.journal@bc.edu by May 1st!

Submission Guidelines:

- ❖ Submissions should be sent with a cover sheet with the creator's name, a title, and the date of the submission (no identifying information should be on any material following this cover sheet in order to keep submissions anonymous)
- ❖ All text should be sent in .doc Word format, double spaced, size Times 12
- ❖ Submissions should not be over 10 pages, double spaced, but please feel free to submit sections of papers or other works
- ❖ More information on review process and selection dates will be posted on the sociology website in the near future. Any questions, contact Stafford Oliver or Prof. Deborah Piatelli at sociology.journal@bc.edu.

WANT TO JOIN? We are looking for editors, marketers and web designers. Take part in building the journal from the ground up!
